

I believe that this proposed change will cause severe interference not only to the amateur radio community but to business and other radio services. I remember when cable television started. They said there would be no interference generated. Why is it then that there are areas here that your receiver is almost dead from cable leakage. This proposal could cause much worse interference, as there is no shielding on that system at all.
Thanks for listining.